A PUZZLE WITH INFINITE SOLUTIONS

Our Product

Helius is a magnetic building toy that is designed around symmetry, patterns, logic and free play. This colorful STEAM toy gives kids and their parents an opportunity to embrace abstract concepts while developing the skill of visualization with the tactile magic of magnets. The solutions of the future will require staying adaptable, seeing new possibilities, and remaining curious. Drop the screen and pick up a new way to engage the hands and the brain. No one is too old or young to experience the magic of discovery.
